Romance Languages & Literatures, Notre Dame, IN 46556

Assistant Professor of Italian

<http://romancelanguages.nd.edu/>

The Department of Romance Languages and Literatures invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professorship with a specialization in any area of Italian literature post-1600 or in post-unification Italian culture. Outstanding promise in research and an ability to teach language and literature within the framework of an interdisciplinary but literature-based graduate and undergraduate Italian Studies Program are essential. We seek candidates with a historically informed and theoretically sensitive approach to one or more of the following areas of Italian studies: literature, including theater and history of literary criticism; anthropology; cultural studies; gender studies; history of ideas; history of the language; mass media; cinema; social, political and/or economic history; music; sociology; visual culture.

Notre Dame offers highly competitive salary and benefits, a 2-2 teaching load, and excellent opportunities and support for research, teaching and professional development. For consideration, please send letter of application, full curriculum vitae, a brief writing sample, teaching evaluations, and three current letters of recommendation to Professor Theodore J. Cachey, Jr., Chair, Department of Romance Languages and Literatures, University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, IN 46556 by November 15, 2008. The University of Notre Dame is an affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to fostering a culturally diverse atmosphere for faculty, staff, and students. Women, minorities, persons with disabilities, and those attracted to a university with a Catholic identity are encouraged to apply. Information about Notre Dame and the Department, including our mission statements, is available at: <http://www.nd.edu> <<http://www.nd.edu/>>
