Purdue University, Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, Continuing Lecturer in Italian

The Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures at Purdue University invites applications for a full-time position in Italian, beginning January, 2008. Applicants must have at least a Master's degree in Italian, Comparative Literature, language studies or a closely related field, with a minimum of one academic year of teaching experience and must demonstrate native-like fluency in Italian as well as an excellent functional command of English.

In addition to teaching undergraduate language courses at all levels and participating in the activities of the Italian language section, the position may involve some supervision of teaching assistants and/or lecturers.

Continuing lectureships are non-tenured teaching positions, with medical and retirement benefits.

Please send a letter of interest describing relevant teaching experience, a curriculum vitae and three confidential letters of recommendation (especially addressing the candidate's teaching strengths) to Paul B. Dixon, Head, Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, Purdue University, 640 Oval Drive, West Lafayette, IN 47907-2039. No email, please.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2008; applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Purdue University is an Equal Opportunity, Equal Access, Affirmative Action Employer, fully committed to achieving a diverse workforce.
